Heather Vassar

Heather Vassar was born and raised in a small West Texas town called Big Spring. She played softball from the very young age of five all the way through high school. Upon graduating high school, Heather received an offer to play softball at Texas Tech University. This had been a dream of hers and she thought this is exactly what life would look like. However, it was there she realized that softball wasn't her biggest dream anymore, so she quit the game. Since her second year of college, Heather has been playing any instrument she could get her hands on. Teaching herself to play the guitar, piano, drums, and most recently the violin, she also began song writing. She recently graduated from Texas Tech University in May of 2009 with a Marketing degree, and also attended South Plains Junior College for Commercial Music Performance. As of January 2009, she released an EP entitled, "Chasing Beautiful". In August 2009, Heather met Don Koch, a producer out of Nashville, TN and signed a production deal with him. She now lives in Nashville, TN working on a full length album that will be released in 2010.
